

Jeremy Anderson (General Manager)

Jeremy has been in the GM role for MIC since July 2022. His career has been in agriculture with 30 years' experience primarily in Rural Banking, with the last 10 years in people management/leadership roles.

Jeremy has a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Canterbury and has done a number of governance trainings, including IOD governance essentials and was a member of the IOD for a number of years.

Jeremy has developed his governance career, mostly in agribusiness. He has been a director of Maniototo Dairy 2012 Ltd for 12 years, a director of Maniototo Westside Irrigation Ltd since 2020 and was a director of Maniototo Irrigation Company from 2020 until 2023, being chair from 2021 until 2023 (resigning due to the obvious conflict of interest as GM also).

Other governance roles include as director of Ida Valley Pastoral Ltd (a 30,000su sheep and cattle station) from 2017 to 2020, A trustee of Otago Farmers Market Trust from 2016-2021 and is currently a director of Maniototo Health Services.

Jeremy also sits on the Governance Group of Tiaki Maniototo a $5m environmental improvement fund for water quality in the Upper Taieri catchment.

Jeremy brings good financial management acumen along with a strong stakeholder network and people management skills. He has a deep understanding of agriculture being born and bred on a sheep and beef farm in Central Otago and a lifetime of working in the industry. He is passionate about farming, particularly in the Maniototo area and is driven to preserve access to irrigation water for generations to come.
